For Immediate Release:

Technology Pathways adds VP Sales

Experienced executive joins company to head up sales.

Coronado, Ca, December 5, 2003, Technology Pathways, LLC today announced the addition of Ted Augustine as the VP of Sales. Mr. Augustine brings over 25 years of telecommunications and software sales experience to Technology Pathways and will be chartered to take over and build the existing sales team to meet the growing demand for the ProDiscover family of forensic and security products.

“We are pleased to have such a seasoned executive on the management team” stated Steve Richardson, President and CEO of Technology Pathways. “Ted’s proven ability to develop sales organizations and grow sales both domestically and internationally will allow us to continue to acquire new customers while nurturing the excellent relationships we have with our customer base.”

Mr. Augustine has been a VP of Sales in a variety of large and small corporations including Pacific Bell, AT&T, Compression Labs, VTEL, and etNetworks. He has won numerous awards for sales achievements and built several sales organizations during his career. He has a BS in Economics from the University of San Francisco and has attended executive training programs at the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Colombia University.
